Cathy Lynn Borbely - nominated by the Canadian Society for Civil Engineering

Cathy Lynn Borbely is the Manager of Transportation Planning and Development for the Saskatchewan Ministry of Highways and Infrastructure in Regina. She is responsible for federal/provincial funding agreement negotiations as well as strategic planning policy framework development, and medium to long term transportation investment strategy.

En 2004, Cathy Lynn Borbely est devenue la première femme – et elle demeure la seule – à avoir été présidente de la Société canadienne de génie civil. Auparavant, elle avait dirigé une importante démarche de planification stratégique pour redéfinir la structure organisationnelle et le rôle de la permanence. Cette restructuration demeure le cadre du travail de la SCGC au niveau corporatif.

Cathy Lynn has made significant contributions to the Canadian Society for Civil Engineering, to the engineering profession and to Canada, and tonight, we are pleased to recognize these achievements by conferring these special honours.

Ladies & gentlemen and Mr. President, please welcome Cathy Lynn Borbely as a Fellow of the Engineering Institute of Canada.
